- 1 The employer has a statutory duty to ensure that their employees are legally entitled to work in the UK. There are potential significant penalties if the employer fails to carry conduct sufficient and diligent checks and needs to retain proof that the checks have been undertaken. Further information at: www.gov.uk/check-job-applicant-right-to-work
- If the employee does not have a UK National Insurance Number (NINO) the employee should be asked to apply for one. This can be a lengthy process. The employee should be directed to the information at: www.gov.uk/apply-national-insurance-number Note that the employer cannot apply for a National Insurance Number on behalf of their employee.
- Form P45 is issued by the previous employer (or Job Centre Plus if the new starter was previously unemployed). If the employee does not have a P45, or has not received it yet, then they should complete a Starter Checklist. The form can be downloaded from www.gov.uk/government/publications/paye-starter-checklist
